Prez Sez By Mike Grover

I hope all of you are having a great summer so far and have brewed up some interesting beers. Thanks to everyone who came out to Lakewood Brewing Company for the June club meeting. Unfortunately I was not able to make it (well I was at National Homebrew Conference so I guess it wasn't THAT unfortunate). From the pictures I saw it looked like we had one of our better turnouts in a while. The brewery theme continues as we will have our July meeting at Community Beer Company in Dallas. Note that the meeting has been moved to a Wednesday since Community is closed on Tuesdays. The meeting will be on Wednesday, July 15th at 7:00 p.m. Community does not serve dinner but they identified a number of good restaurants in the area that will deliver to the brewery. There are also lots of great restaurants in the area if you want to eat before coming to the meeting.

The officers meeting will be held on Tuesday, July 7th at the Taphouse Gastro Kitchen & Bar located at 8320 Texas Highway 121 in Frisco. The location is near the northeast corner of 121/Sam Rayburn Tollway and Parkwood Boulevard. As always, club members are welcome to join us at the officers meetings. Give us a heads up if you plan on joining so that we get a big enough table.

July is a busy month, as we also have our summer party on Saturday the 18th and the July brew day on the 25th. Details for each of these events are inside and also posted on the club's website at www.nthba.org.

Be sure to get your Limbo Challenge entries bottled up over the next few weeks. They are due on July 30th. We will be looking for support from club members for judging on August 8th. Remember to pick your best thirst quenching session beer for the Lawnmower Beer category. Only two bottles are needed for this one, and it can be of any style (or non-style) of your choosing.

Pros't!

Summer Party!!

We have just a couple of weeks until the 2015 NTHBA Summer Party. As mentioned at the June meeting, we will follow the usual format of the club providing the meat...probably BBQ. All you need to bring food-wise is a side or desert. Also, bring a chair for outside as seating could be somewhat limited. Other than that, the pool will be open for anyone if they want to cool off. Thanks, and hope to see you there!

You can always find out about the latest events coming up on the NTHBA Club Calendar here: <http://nthba.org/content/club-calendar>

As always, if ever you have a question or comments, or if you would like to provide suggestions or feedback about a specific event, please do not hesitate to e-mail me at socials@nthba.org. I look forward to hearing from you!

Saluti!

Competition Corner By Walter Hodges

On June 16th, we shipped approximately 25 entries to The Inquisition and The Lunar Redezbrew. The Lunar Redezbrew will announce winners on August 1st. Awards for The Inquisition will be announced on August 8th.

The next competition is our very own Limbo Challenge. You still have some time to brew up a quick fermenting, low gravity beer. Entry deadline for the Limbo is July 30th. Check in will be on Saturday, August 1st, starting at 8:00 AM. Come help with check-in and you can bring your entries then. Registration for the Limbo will open on July 13th. More information about the Limbo can be found at: www.limbocomp.org

For our mead makers, Texas Meadfest has been added to the LSC. This event is being hosted by the Texas Mead Association. Entry deadline for this competition is September 4th. You can check their web site at: <http://www.texasmead.org/mead-fest.aspx>

We had eight entries for the July COC – Limbo Categories. The judges had their work cut out for them with some excellent entries.

Equity May end $4,573.16.

New members in May: 18.

Members at May end: 180.

Current members at the time of this article: 80. Remember the new year started in June.

The final monthly reports are available on the club website at the following link:

<http://nthba.org/content/club-documents>

Please let me know if you would like to discuss any of the clubs financial information. Also, please let me know if you would like additional or different information in this article.

Our membership year runs June until May. Your membership may have expired at the end of May. Please renew at either Homebrew Headquarters or Wine Maker's Toy Store. The membership fee is $30 and will expire and the end of May 2016.

I or the officers always have membership forms and cards at all the club events. I'll send some email reminders. We will also keep you on the email list for a couple of months into the new year even if your membership lapses.

We do have 80 members that have membership expiring in 2016. Thanks for renewing your membership.

Please pay your dues! You will be glad you did!

Beer Stuff

I got my 10 PCBs from dirtypcb.com. They came in while I was at NHC. I have not had a chance to build one up yet because I had some higher priority tasks in front of BrewPi. I did find a mistake in the board design that I can fix with a wire. Overall I think the boards look great. Worth the wait and the price.

The big reason for ordering these boards was I really wanted to see what a board would look like after I designed it and it was manufactured. I'll spend more time refining the Brewtroller board I am going to design as a shield for the Arduino Mega2560.

Below is a picture of one of the boards I got back. I will cut it into four smaller boards along the white line. The two sub boards on the right side are different versions of the rotary encoder board with different spacing on the mounting holes for the encoder. I was not sure what the proper spacing was. I was surprised that the board house would do the notches you see on the sides of the board. Those were experiments just to see what would happen. You can also see an imperfection on the left side of the sharpie circle. Those two marks have the resist scraped off. Not a big deal, just an imperfection I can live with for the price.

National Homebrew Conference

NHC was very fun. I think we went out too early. We arrived on Saturday before the event week. We went to so many breweries and bars that I was a bit beered out by the time NHC started.

We went to the Brewing Network's 10th anniversary party on the Wednesday night. It was a great party with many awesome beers pouring. Amazingly there was so much good beer that there was not a line at the Russian River station. The Rare Barrel was pouring all of their beers and had a huge line. I did not wait in that line preferring to taste the other good beers at the party.

There was a weird band called the Creepy Creeps or Creepxotica. They play something like Halloween Surf music. Here is a link to a short clip. <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=xg0YjGS6A9U> They were actually very good. They wore work suits with skeleton masks and fezzes.

NHC talks started slow for me but finished with some great talks. I am inspired to brew some sour beers now. The beer events were too crowded because outdoor space was just not big enough for the number of people attending. The beer at commercial night was very good. I thought the beer at homebrew night was some of the worst I have had at a NHC. I only liked about 10% of the beers I tasted. Some of this may have been the fact that I was burned out on hoppy beers by then and was looking for some good Porters, Pilsners and anything sessionable.

NHC will be in Baltimore next year. I don't know what the beer scene is like in Maryland. It will be close to some of the Pennsylvania breweries so there will be some options.

Enough for now.

Brew Strong!

Jimmy
